

Terms of UseIdentity Verification and Authentication System via the ThaiD Application

As you wish to open a securities trading account in order to conduct securities trading transactions and/or you are a client of the Company who is subjected to the Company's Know Your Customer (KYC) review process with Maybank Securities (Thailand) Public Company Limited (the "Company") through the Maybank Invest application ("MBi Application"), you acknowledge that the Company is legally required to conduct Know Your Customer (KYC) procedures and require clients to complete identity verification and authentication through the ThaiD application, which is an application of the Department of Provincial Administration, Ministry of Interior ("ThaiD Application"), for the purpose of your identity verification and authentication (Digital ID) in good faith prior to the opening of a securities trading account. The Company is also required to use the ThaiD Application for the purpose of conducting Know Your Customer (KYC) reviews and/or for any other purposes relating to customer identity verification, such as changes to your personal information, address, and/or telephone number. You acknowledge that you will leave the MBI Application in order to connect and to use the identity verification and authentication service through the ThaiD Application. Once you have completed all required steps for identity verification and authentication on the ThaiD Application, you will return to the MBI Application to continue the securities trading account opening process, complete the Know Your Customer (KYC) review, and/or complete any other procedures relating to customer identity verification, until completion.

The Company hereby informs you to carefully review the terms and conditions of the ThaiD application service before accepting and using such services. The Company would also like to clarify that, once you leave the MBI Application to proceed with identity verification and authentication on the ThaiD Application, you acknowledge and agree to be bound by the terms and conditions of the ThaiD Application service on your own behalf. Such terms and conditions are not prepared by, nor is the Company involved in the preparation of, those terms and conditions, and they have not been developed, verified, validated, or reviewed by the Company in any manner. Accordingly, the Company cannot guarantee the accuracy, completeness, or reliability of any content or statement on the ThaiD Application. Therefore, if any loss or damage occurs to you during the identity verification and authentication process on the ThaiD Application, or from the use of services on the ThaiD Application, including but not limited to loss of data arising from activities conducted on the ThaiD Application, whether caused by technical failures, defects, or any other reasons on the ThaiD Application resulting in your data being damaged or lost in whole or in part, the Company, its directors, officers, or employees shall not be liable or responsible for any loss or damage whatsoever (including but not limited to consequential damages, loss of profits, or any damages arising from data loss), whether based on warranty, contract, tort, or any other legal grounds. In addition, the Company is merely an authorized user of the service of DOPA-Digital ID identity verification and authentication system and has no relationship or relevance whatsoever with the Department of Provincial Administration, Ministry of Interior, which owns, holds copyright to, and/or possesses intellectual property rights in relation to ThaiID application.

If you do not accept the terms and conditions of the ThaiID application services, you will not be able to proceed with identity verification and authentication in order to open a securities trading account, conducting a Know Your Customer (KYC) Review, and/or any other purpose relating to customer identity verification with the Company through the MBI Application.
